What our employees have to say about Restorative Pathways Counseling:

"I love working at RPC because I know I have the ability to grow into the counselor I want to be, not someone else's idea of what I should be. I love having the support and freedom to serve the populations I am passionate about while being a part of a team pursuing their passions and seeing how it all works together."

What our clients have to say about Restorative Pathways Counseling:

“[She] has been my therapist a little over a year and a half now. Previously, I have been to several other therapists in my life but none of them even came close to making me feel challenged to be better, hopeful for my future, and in control of my life. I have struggled with depression and anxiety for several years now, but when an unforeseen tragedy occurred in my life, it began to take its toll on my everyday life. I couldn't get out of bed or keep a job, and my entire world felt like it was crashing in front of me. With the guidance of [my therapist], my life has been completely changed. I now see my worth in this world, and that my mental illness does not define me. She has taught me how to improve my communication skills, handle life's challenges in a healthy and productive way, and to be more aware of what my body and emotions are telling me and how to process them. I am now not the scared, confused, overwhelmed person I was almost two years ago. I am now confident that I can handle whatever life throws at me and come out the other side stronger emotionally and spiritually. [She] is using her gift from God to change lives and help people be the best versions of themselves.”
